1. The Deutsche Handel GmbH was founded in the Russian Sector of Berlin early in July 1952. This company has its headquarters on the fourth floor¹ of the Deutsche Warenvertriebsgesellschaft, Berlin W8, Leipzigerstrasse, corner of Friedrichstrasse. Die Gesellschaft Deutscher Handel is a member of the Deutsche Warenvertriebsgesellschaft, and all of its business transactions must bear the signature of the director of the Deutsche Warenvertriebsgesellschaft, Richter.
2. Otto Kranz and Willi Klink were put in charge of the new company. The enterprise employs a total of only twenty-four employees who are all members of the SED and who have high functions within the Party.
3. The company is to be the successor of Meletex and first of all is to wind up that part of the unofficial transactions which, because of its great volume and special meaning, requires the greatest attention and secrecy. Also, a part of the intelligence activity in the Federal Republic is to be steered (channeled) through the Deutsche Handel GmbH.
4. Willi Klink, who was formerly the secretary of Franz Dahlem, member of the Zentral-Komitee of the SED, has been busy for months getting together a group of persons to be given special assignments within the Federal Republic. Klink also played an important role in the selection of those West German participants in the Moscow World Economic Conference.
5. Former Bavarian Councillor Dr. Weber, Nürnberg-Fürth, Maxstrasse 48,² is to act as the liaison man of the new company in southern Germany. Weber was a member of the Wirtschaftsamt (Economic Office) in Fürth and was later transferred to Regensburg. Approximately three weeks ago, Weber, on Klink's instruction, received 5000 westmarks from the Deutsche Handel GmbH. Weber also participated in the
